Geo Delft 2018

Geo Delft 2018

It is our great pleasure to invite you to the Joint Geo Delft Conference 2018, the Netherlands.

The joint Geo Delft 2018 Conference will bring together communities from 4 related international organizations: ISPRS, FIG, UICMS and 3D GeoInfo.

This will attract researchers from academia, industry and government active in all geo-information fields: data collection, advanced modelling, data management, data analysis, dissemination, visualisation for a wide range of application domains. Specific attention will be paid to the 3D aspects, smart cities and cadastres.

International Journal of 3D Information Modeling

Description

The International Journal of 3-D Information Modeling (IJ3DIM) focuses on three research domains: building information modeling, 3D GIS, and integration of 3D information in the urban built environment. IJ3DIM facilitates the exchange of current scientific information, as well as sharing of state-of-the art technological developments within the AEC industry. The journal provides a forum for information dissemination between academics and academics/professionals associated with city planning and management, infrastructure management, all disciplines of geosciences, building and civil engineering, disaster management, logistics, environmental planning and conservation, computer graphics, data management, gaming, and so forth. In addition to academics, the primary audience of the journal also includes engineers, architects, contractors, consultants, and facility managers. IJ3DIM publishes original research articles, case studies, reviews and best practices, and applications, including mathematical models and algorithms.

Topics Covered

- 3D augmented and virtual reality
- 3D data collection and reconstruction
- 3D GIS standards
- 3D interoperability
- 3D spatial analysis
- 3D spatial information infrastructures
- 3D static and dynamic network models
- 3D to nD spatial information modeling
- 3D/4D visualization and visual analytics
- BIM based 4/5/nD modeling and management
- BIM based collaborative working
- BIM based facilities/asset management
- BIM based visualization/simulation/augmented reality
- BIM in site automation
- BIM maturity/readiness/adoption
- BIM standards
- Building information modeling and management (BIM)
- Disaster Management
- Environmental management
- Geo-coding and 3D location based services
- Integrated project delivery
- Location based scheduling
- Management of large 3D datasets
- Multi-source and multi-domain 3D data integration
- Ontology/schema/service level integration
- Serious games
- Spatial DBMS
- Training and education on BIM
- Urban planning, management and renewal
- Web semantics and knowledge engineering

Editor(s)-in-Chief Biography

Jason Underwood is a senior lecturer in the School of the Built Environment at the University of Salford. He is also Director of Construct IT For Business, an industry-led collaborative membership-based network. His research interests are in the area of concurrent engineering, integrated and collaborative computing in construction, product and building information modeling, and organisational e-readiness. He is actively engaged in the Education & Training working group of the UK Government BIM strategy and the current Chair of the UK BIM Academic Forum.

Sisi Zlatanova is an associate professor at the GIS Technology section, OTB research Institute for the Built Environment, Delft University of Technology, The Netherlands. Her research interests are in 3D geo-information: modelling, data structuring, integration of models, and Level of Details.

Umit Isikdag has his PhD (from the University of Salford) in Construction Information Technology. His research interests are BIM / IFC, 3D GIS, Internet of Things (WSNs), SOA, RESTful Architectures, BIM 2.0, and Spatial Web Services. He is actively involved in the organization of 3D GeoInfo and GeoAdvances Conferences, and also serving as the Secretary of ISPRS WG II/2.
